

Materials Selection & Collection Development Policy

Objectives

The purpose of the Darwin R. Barker Library is to provide all members of the community and surrounding area with thoughtfully selected materials which will enhance all patrons in their pursuit of information, research, and the creative use of leisure time. Darwin R. Barker Library must have a selection policy that will accommodate community interests and needs. Materials are selected that will represent all points of view concerning issues of importance to our society. Differences in age and educational levels will also be considered during the selection process. Library materials will be selected in a variety of formats including, but not limited to, videos, print, sound recordings and electronic media.

Responsibility for selection

The ultimate responsibility for material selection rests with the library director who operates within the framework of the policies determined by the Darwin R. Barker Board of Trustees. This responsibility may be shared with other library staff members, however, because the director must answer to the library board and community members for actual selections made, the director has the authority to reject or select any item contrary to the recommendations of the staff.

Criteria for selection

The following main points considered in materials selection are: individual merit of the item, popular appeal & demand, material suitability for patron population, existing library holdings and budget restrictions. Material reviews are a major source of information used in the selection process. The following are some, but not all review sources used in the selection process: Booklist, American Libraries Magazine and the New York Times Book Review.

Gifts & donations

The library accepts books and other materials with the understanding that they will be added to the collection only if appropriate and needed. If due to condition, duplication, or dated information the director may dispose of them at will. Memorial gifts of materials or money are also accepted and will be designated a memorial with a bookplate placement in the designated gift.

Weeding

An up-to-date, attractive and useful collection is maintained through a continual withdrawal and replacement process. Replacement of worn materials is dependent upon current interest and demand, usefulness and relevancy. This ongoing process of weeding is the responsibility of the library director and is authorized by the Board of Trustees.

Challenged Materials

Although materials are carefully selected, there may arise differences of opinion regarding suitable materials. Registered patrons requesting that material be withdrawn from the collection are urged to complete a "Darwin R. Barker Reconsideration of Library Resources," which is available at the circulation desk.

Darwin R. Barker Library Reconsideration of Library Resources
